These Specific Terms and Conditions of the Bit2Me Ambassador Programme (hereinafter, Specific Terms and Conditions) govern the contractual relationship between you (hereinafter, the Ambassador) and Bit2Me. You and Bit2Me are hereinafter referred to separately as a "Party" and jointly as the "Parties" with regard to your use of the Bit2Me Ambassador Programme, and these constitute a legally binding contract (hereinafter, the "Contract") between the parties.

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of the Programme is to activate a network of external collaborators in order to scale community engagement, promote education on regulated crypto-assets and drive the growth of the Bit2Me ecosystem through content creation, event organisation and the acquisition of referrals.

By voluntarily joining the Programme, the Ambassador agrees to participate and, consequently, to the terms and conditions set out below.

2. NATURE OF THE RELATIONSHIP

The relationship between Bit2Me and the Ambassador is established as that of an independent external collaborator. No provision of these Terms and Conditions shall be construed as constituting an employment, agency or partnership relationship. The Ambassador has no authority whatsoever to legally represent the Company or to incur obligations on its behalf.

By participating in the Programme, it is understood that the Ambassador has fully accepted these Terms of Use and that, therefore, they have previously read and understood each and every one of the terms, undertaking to comply with all the specifications set out therein, which may be stored and reproduced by the Ambassador at any time.

Bit2Me reserves the right to amend these Terms of Use, suspend the Programme in whole or in part; and to change, update, remove, cancel or suspend any feature, component or content relating to the Programme. Where changes and amendments are made and are material, Ambassadors will be notified, and it is the Ambassador's responsibility to review these Terms, which are available at <https://Bit2Me.com>. For these purposes, the Ambassador shall be deemed to have fully accepted the new terms if, one month after the changes have been made available to all Ambassadors, the Ambassador has not requested to terminate or de-register from the service. The Ambassador may, within the aforementioned period, indicate that they do not agree with the changes made to the Terms and Conditions, in which case they must request the cancellation or termination of the Bit2Me service.

The total or partial invalidity of any provision or clause of these Specific Terms and Conditions shall not affect the validity of the whole or part of any other provision of these Specific Terms and Conditions. The remaining provisions of these Specific Terms and Conditions shall remain in full force and effect.

Any matter not resolved by these Specific Terms and Conditions shall be governed by Bit2Me's General Terms and Conditions, as well as by the Specific Terms and Conditions applicable to the various Bit2Me services. The Ambassador is solely responsible for meeting the tax obligations arising from their actions in connection with the Programme. In the case of an Ambassador resident in Spain, in accordance with current tax regulations, their compensation may be subject to the relevant Personal Income Tax (IRPF) withholding, depending on the nature of the activity. The Ambassador is responsible for providing the tax information necessary for the correct application of such withholding.

7. INTELLECTUAL AND INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY

The Programme, the associated software and the technological tools, including, but not limited to, their programming, editing, compilation, design, logos, text and/or graphics, are the property of Bit2Me and are protected by national and international intellectual and industrial property laws. The Ambassador's access to the service does not grant them any ownership rights over these elements.

Therefore, Bit2Me does not at any time grant any right of ownership over the Programme, the associated software or the technological tools, but rather grants the right to use them under the conditions described; under no circumstances shall this be construed as authorisation for their reproduction and public dissemination, transfer, sale, hire or loan, and the Ambassador undertakes not to transfer their use, in whole or in part, in any form, nor to disclose, publish or otherwise make them available to third parties.

The Ambassador acknowledges and accepts that they have no intention of using such materials or information inappropriately or in any way to harm Bit2Me or any of its affiliates.

8. PENALTIES IN THE EVENT OF FRAUDULENT USE

Bit2Me will consider behaviour that it deems to be apparently abusive and/or malicious to constitute fraud. Similarly, it will be understood, by way of example but not limited to, that abuse or fraud occurs when an Ambassador identifies themselves using a false identity or the identities of third parties without their consent.

The discovery of any of these practices will result, depending on the case, in the loss of access to the service and/or the automatic blocking of the profile on the platform in serious cases of fraudulent use.

Bit2Me reserves the right to take legal action against any persons who carry out any act that could be considered as profile manipulation.

Bit2Me reserves the right to revoke the status of Ambassador from any person who contravenes these terms and conditions.

first notice of inactivity. Should such inactivity persist for a second month, the Ambassador will be automatically excluded from the Programme.

10. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

Bit2Me shall be exempt from any liability for damages that may arise from the temporary unavailability or interruption of the service, from the failure to meet the expectations that Ambassadors may have had regarding the service, and from access to the various pages and the submission of participation responses via the Internet. Bit2Me shall also be exempt from any acts or omissions by participants that prevent their proper participation in the campaign.

The Programme is provided without any warranty, whether express, implied or statutory, except as expressly provided in these Specific Terms and Conditions, to the extent permitted by applicable law.
